

TSA Young Professional (TSAYP)

Each Year, TSA brings together the brightest young talent in the sign, graphics, and visual communications industry at TSA's Annual Conference and New Products Show.

Here, they experience unique networking opportunities and free access to all education sessions and complementary attendance to the annual conference. What a great way to learn about the industry and enjoy time with some of the best industry professionals.

The deadline to apply is April 1, and applicants will be notified of their status on April 15. Know someone who might be interested in the program for future years?

All applicants must be:

- 35 years of age or younger
- Currently employed in the sign, graphics, and visual communications industry.
- Currently employed by a TSA Member Organization. If you are unsure of your membership status, please contact leona@txsigns.org.

Selected participants for 2021 TSA Young Professional (TSAYP) will receive:

- 2 nights hotel accommodation for the Annual conference and New Products Show
- Complementary registration to the annual conference.
- Unique networking opportunities with fellow sign, graphics, and visual communications industry professionals and the TSA Board of Directors.
- Make lifelong friends with your peers in the industry.
- Only one TSAYP per member company may be selected, multiple applications are encouraged.
- Selection of a minimum of 3 participants each year.
- Serve on TSA Committees of their choosing.
- Serve as an advisor to the Board of Directors on the TSA Young Professional committee, which advises all committees of the association.

This truly is the best learning and networking opportunity for those professionals hoping to progress their career in the sign, graphics, and visual communications industry.
